

This article applies to:

Products Roles

May 20, 2026 | 682 view(s) | 1 people thought this was helpful

Subscribe

Screen Share Options

Vidcast provides multiple options when choosing to share your screen for a recording

Overview

Whether you're needing to share your entire screen or just a single browser tab, you'll have options when using Vidcast.

Click below for a vidcast explaining/demonstrating your options or read on for a full explanation.

Screen Share Demo

Microsoft Edge File Edit View History Favorites Tools Profiles Tab Window Help

Hi, Joel TESTING
Welcome back!

vidcast

For you

Groups

Recent videos

My videos

Insights

Collections

Trash

Settings

Help center

Vidcast Overview of How P

Vidcast Help Center/Chat

Recommended for you

Vidcast Overview

Vidcast Use Cases

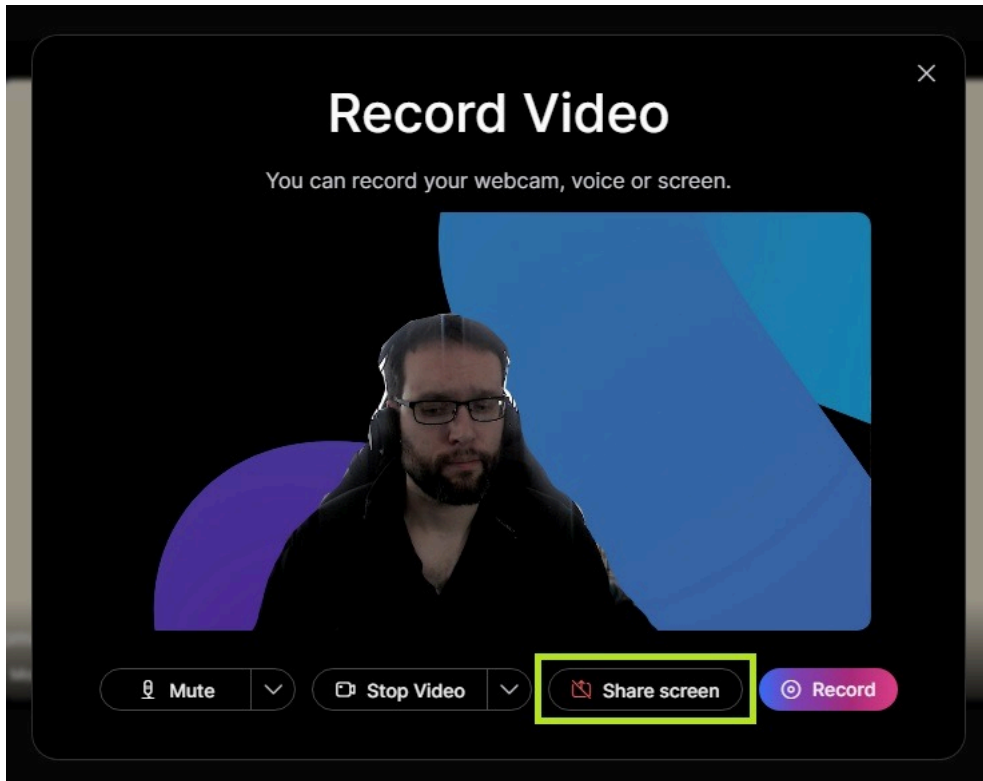

Vidcast Help Center/Chat

0:00/1:16 (01:03 @ 1.2x)

Joel Wren

0 views • 0 reactions • January 13, 2023 at 1:56 PM

When selecting to record a new video, your screen share will default to being off. Simply click on the screen share icon to pull up your preferences menu.

Entire Screen

Selecting to record your entire screen will do just as it sounds. You'll be recording everything that appears on that screen (different browser tabs, windows, thumbnails, etc).

Choose what to share

app.vidcast.io wants to share the contents of your screen.

Cancel

Share

In the above example, the user is using two monitors. If your setup uses just one screen, you'll simply see the one option here.

Microsoft Edge or Chrome Tab

This option will record only the specific Edge or Chrome tab that you choose. This is a great option for when you have multiple browser tabs open. Rather than closing everything out, this allows you to record just the one tab that you specify.

Choose what to share

app.vidcast.io wants to share the contents of your screen.

Entire Screen

Window

Microsoft Edge tab

ESPN: Serving sports fans. Anytime. Anywhere.

Cancel

Share

Window

The Window option allows you to record any specific window that you have open. Unlike the Edge/Chrome tab option, you'll be able to go back and forth between browser tabs within your video if that's what you wish.

And this option is also not limited to recording browser windows. As you'll see in the below screenshot, you can record any different app windows that you have open (eg. Notes, Outlook, Webex, etc).

Choose what to share

app.vidcast.io wants to share the contents of your screen.

Was this article helpful?

Yes, thank you!

Not really